

Driving Rain

From Chicago through Wisconsin
The rain never stopped
Cold and leaden skies
Pouring out its tears
Feeling so alone
After all these years

From St. Paul to Dakota
It got so very cold
Freezing inside
I didn't feel the frigid air
'Cause I still have your words
Burning in my ears

Yesterday the skies were bright
Now today it rains
Yesterday I heard you say
I've only me to blame
So I'm driving through a driving rain
Leaving you behind

Lead

From Montana to Seattle
I didn't see the sun
The clouds never broke
But stayed a steely gray
Rain, wind and chill
Mirrored my day
