

Everyone's a Rebel

It's hard to look cool when you're waiting for a bus
You pose in a Slouch, mutter a cuss
You feel like a rebel but you ain't got a clue
You think you're tough, but we're laughing at you

You're a wild man in minivan
Careening through traffic like you don't give a damn
You think you're a rebel, feel really cool
Well you cut me off you ignorant fool

Lead

You ain't as different as you'd like to think
Everyone's a rebel, we all have a kink
So stop pretending you're a model of cool
Look around at this world of fools

You ain't as different as you'd like to think
Everyone's a rebel, we all have a kink
You'd like to believe that you're unique
But it's hard to be different in a world of freaks

Lead

I'm just a rebel with my own selfish cause
Parading my indifference to your personal laws
Yes, It's my nature to tweak authority
The table has turned so how does it feel?
