

Restless Soul

Stooped and bowed and trudging blindly
Braced against the bitter chill
This old man is seeking shelter
His life and dreams unfulfilled

Slowly plodding, going nowhere
Asking pennies along the way
Not enough for his dinner
Hungry for another day

Yesterday he was a dad
Yesterday he mattered
Yesterday he held a job
Now his dreams are tattered

This restless soul keeps wandering
Finds no comfort
This restless soul keeps wandering
An empty effort
-- Lead --

This restless soul keeps wandering
Finds no comfort
This restless soul keeps wandering
Just empty effort

Stooped and bowed and trudging blindly
Braced against the bitter chill
This old man is seeking shelter
His life and dreams unfulfilled

Yesterday he was a dad
Yesterday he mattered
Yesterday he held a job
Now his dreams are tattered
Now his dreams are shattered
Now his dreams are shattered